

MARRIAGE & COMPANIONSHIP

I lovingly forgive and release all of the past. I choose to fill my world with joy, peace, companionship, togetherness and matrimony.

I love and approve of myself exactly as I am and I am willing to accept an individual with the same mindset who accepts himself as he is. Together we work on co-creating a life filled with the essence of being a family.

I give myself permission to let go of the fear or anxiety of marriage. I give myself courage and compassion to easily release the mindset which I no longer need.

I now easily assimilate and absorb all that I need to know and work one day at a time in inviting love and romance and marriage in my life.

I now become a part of the perfect rhythm and flow of life. All is in Divine right order.