

Through the Divine Intelligence present within all of us, I invoke blessings and grace for all of us.

I believe in you my son and I am thankful that you have a wonderful mind of your own.

You have it in you to shine in your academics and other studies and become outstanding in the days to come.

I believe in your ability and capacity to study and achieve wonderful success.

Divine Intelligence indwells in you and I see a magnificent future for you.

You are healthy, protected, courageous, caring and trustworthy and I am grateful that you are my child.
